

A new and dynamic specialist consultancy based in south-west Cumbria is seeking a qualified Chartered Accountant for a newly created position.

The role will involve assisting the Managing Director with all aspects of accounting, undertaking tax calculations and looking after a portfolio of north-west based clients, with a view to further growth.

The successful applicant MUST:

- Have two years post-qualification experience in an accountancy practice
- Have experience of working with Xero
- Be proficient with using all aspects of Microsoft Office, especially Excel

In addition to the above, we are looking for someone with the following attributes and skills:

- Self-motivation and initiative
- Integrity
- A keen business acumen
- Organisational skills and the ability to manage deadlines
- High analytical skills
- A highly methodical approach and problem-solving skills
- The ability to work independently as well as part of a team
- The ability to critically analyse one's own work
- Excellent communication skills, both written and oral

Whilst this is a full-time position, our client will consider our client will consider applicants who may want to work part-time (with a minimum of 24 hours a week). The successful applicant will work from home initially before spending time split between office and home working.

Salary circa £40K, company car provided and excellent career progression prospects to Director level.

If you would like to apply for this new and challenging role, please send your CV with a covering letter to: careers@philcollierassociates.com

Deadline for applications is 11th December 2020.

Email us your CV & covering letter to apply now careers@philcollierassociates.com